

Potential insiders within Donfuer and the GraybeardGeezers

Introduction:

This document will present all the evidence on my end in regards to who could be responsible for insiding Donfuer and the GraybeardGeezers over the past 3 months.

For some background, since the 4th of May 2024 I had been receiving coordinates to both Donfuer and Geezer bases from an anonymous discord account called 'hisnamewasrobertpaulson'. On the 11th of July I'd have my last exchange with the account. A month and a half later I have yet to hear anything back from the account. For that reason this information is being put forward.

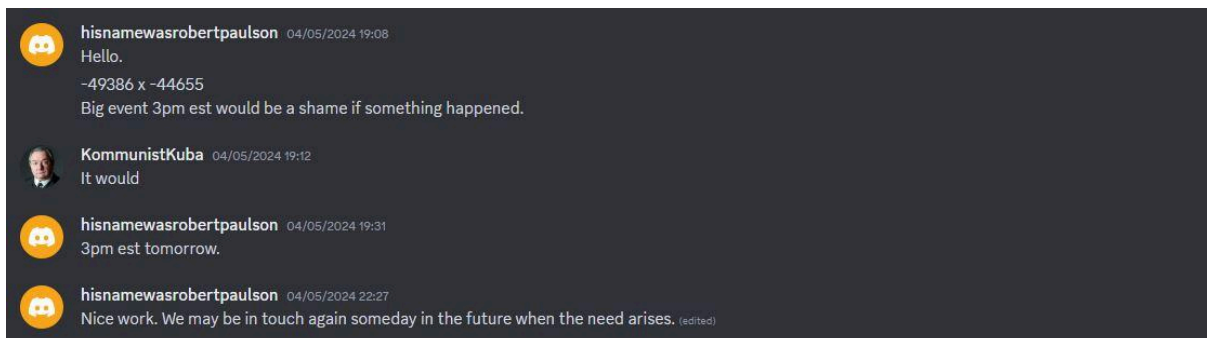

My motivation in this is to have the insider found and subsequently the groups affected to have to deal with the internal fallout of having a high ranking insider exposed. This is better than the alternative of allowing said insiders to stay in the group and allow them to simply continue in the group without providing me cords. An insider who doesn't provide cords on my end is no use, especially if communication has been cut. An insider who is outed is a massive headache for all those involved. It's clearly more beneficial for me for the latter to occur, and frankly also for the groups involved since it means that finally there can be some confidence in regards to base security, since the potential threat of an insider is no longer there. Even if someone isn't actively leaking your shit, still does not negate the fact that they have and that they have clearly proven themselves to be untrustworthy.

In this document I will outline first the raw information about the account. Then I will write my thoughts about potential suspects. Then I will answer potential counterpoints people might raise, both in terms of the conclusions I am reaching and even my own legitimacy.

Raw Evidence:

This is just gonna be a listing of all the information that was given to me by the account. (Keep in mind the date format for these messages is dd/mm/yy with the time being displayed in British Summer Time)

Leaking Red Castle on 4th May 2024, Notice how the time given is in Eastern Standard Time.

The account commenting on the internal damage that a grief of GeezerTown 11 would do in regards to the internal operation of the group. And noting how the leadership is flawed in organisation.

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 08:53
Good day. While I must say the video you made of the previous grief was nice and all. It was not in my best interest for you to share our conversation. I would prefer you not to do this in the future if this is to continue. I have something for you sometime soon; as soon as my people can get me info. This next one should really shake the foundations of the group and cause serious disruption in the way they share their bases to the public. Depending on how much work goes into the start of this base I may or may not release info on the first few days. Would be better if considerable efforts were made by their community first. This will be Geezer Town 11 and may be on the within the first week of bases start depending on who they let in. (edited)

KommunistKuba 28/05/2024 09:09
Fair enough I can totally respect that. As for geezer town 11 that would be perfect release the cords whenever you feel it would be a good time, also just for your own security. If a base gets destroyed shortly after someone gets added that's sure to raise alarm bells.

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 09:10
Yeah but The Geezers are fundamentally flawed in terms of leadership and security. I want it to raise alarms. I want it to demoralize the group. Based on public forums they were very upset about the last one. It'll be soon I'm sure.
I've got bases that would knock your socks off and I must stay out of the picture. (edited)

KommunistKuba 28/05/2024 09:12
Alright, I'm sure they already are schitzoing out over the greifs that happened on Friday. A recent greif on gt 11 would defo upset the people there.
I can't see the geezers making it to the end of the year tbh.

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 09:13
It would be tragic. Maybe wait a week after it's inception. Allow builders to come and start large projects.

hisnamewasrobertpaulson I've got bases that would knock your socks off and I must stay out of the picture. (edited)

KommunistKuba 28/05/2024 09:14
That's totally fine by me.

The account claiming to have access to shop stashes with one being 18 mil out, also further comments in regards to causing distrust within the Geezers through grieving GeezerTown 12.

That's totally fine by me.

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 09:14
I also have multiple shop cords depending on who you are allies with.

KommunistKuba 28/05/2024 09:14
Yeah, we still wanna actually greif something not just a sign board lol

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 09:14
Exactly

hisnamewasrobertpaulson I also have multiple shop cords depending on who you are allies with.

KommunistKuba 28/05/2024 09:14
Fuck shops, that's my stance.

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 09:15
Maybe GT12 just grief the signboard. Let them know Astral knows more than they think. It would really shake up the leaders trust in members and fellow leaders.
All shops?

hisnamewasrobertpaulson All shops?

KommunistKuba 28/05/2024 09:16
Yeah there's not a single shop that I care about not upsetting.

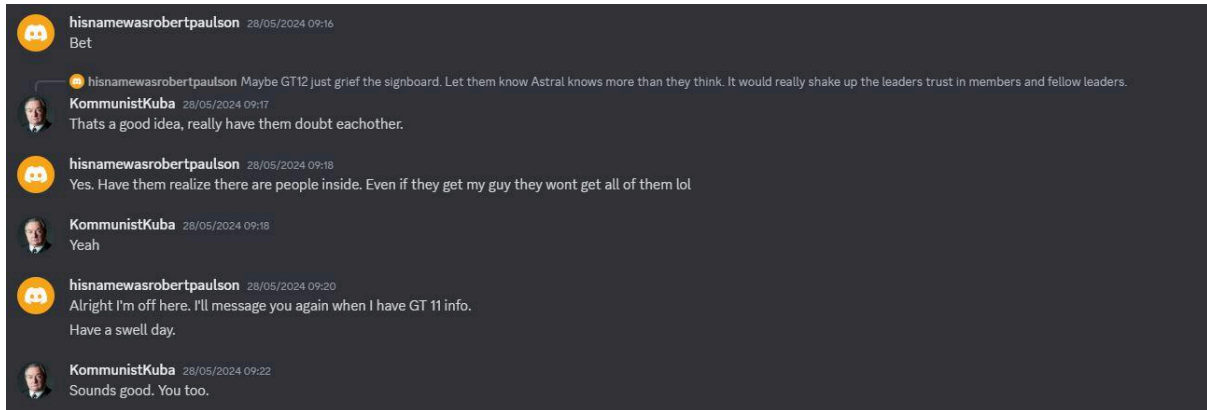

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 09:16
One of them are like 18 mil ish out and I'd need to dig up coords on that one.

KommunistKuba 28/05/2024 09:16
Distance isn't an issue

hisnamewasrobertpaulson 28/05/2024 09:16
Bet

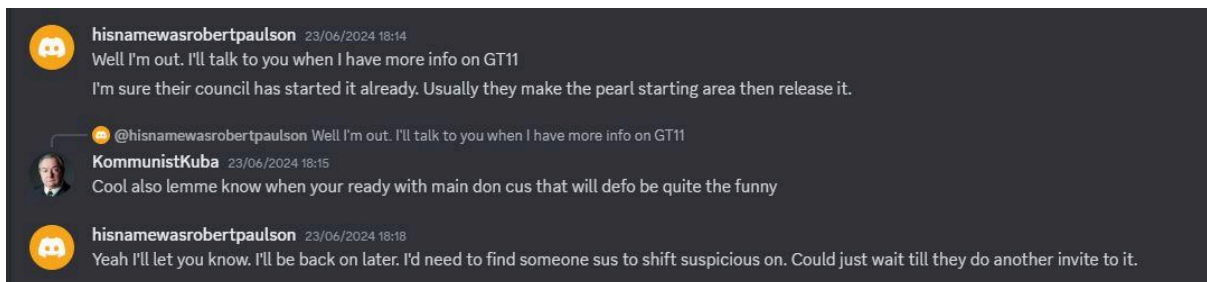

The account claiming that they have multiple people within the geezers.

Leaking Hobbiton, giving information about GeezerTown 11 and promising Donfuer 28.

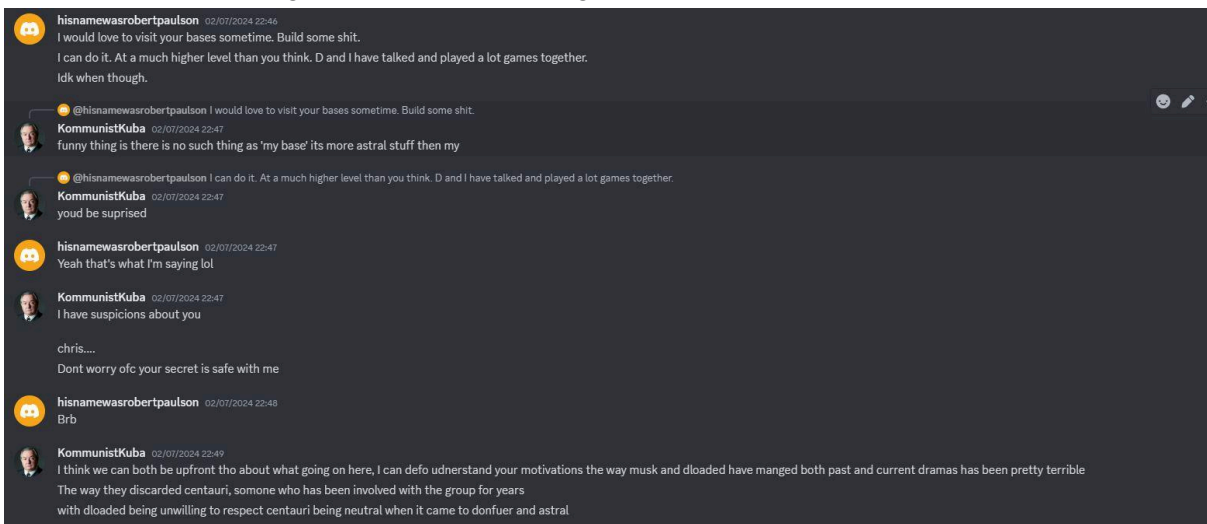

More internal information about Geezers. "Usually they make the pearl starting area then release it."

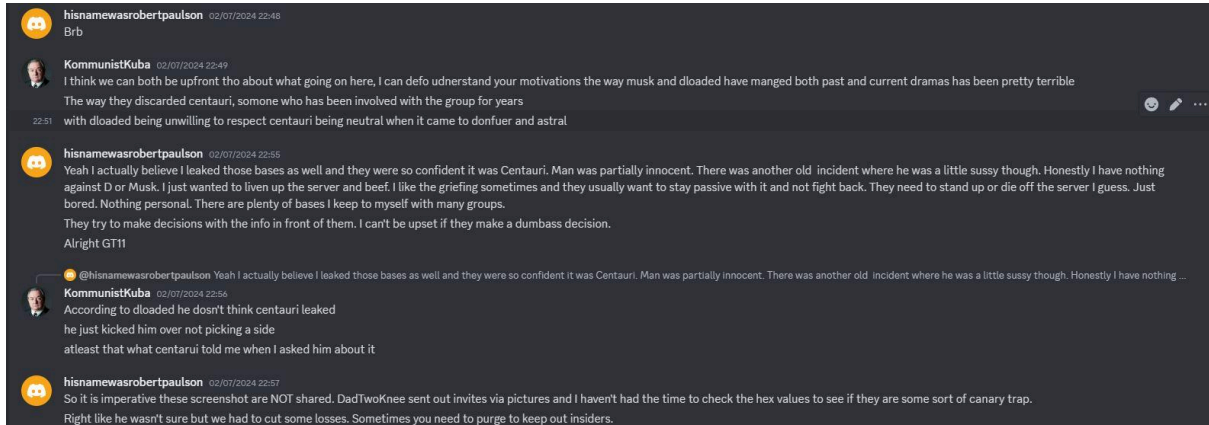

Leaking Donfuer 28, suggesting putting the blame on rainbowren for GeezerTown11. Quick comments in regards to GeezerTown 11. Suggesting to put the blame on Nox Shop for leaking Donfuer 28.

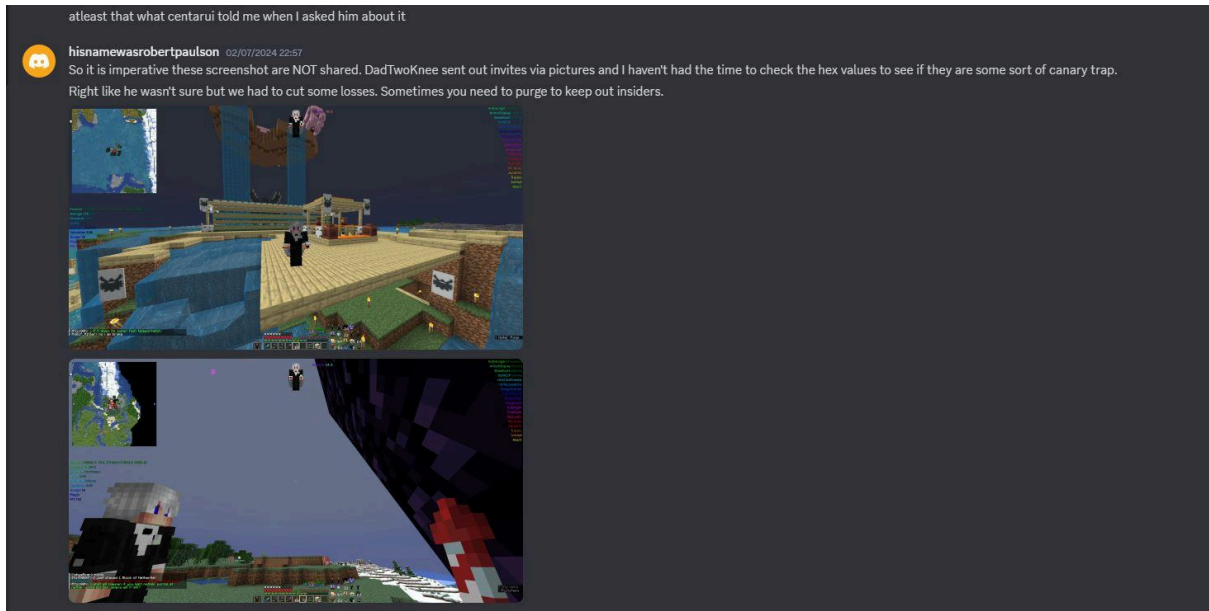

Offering to base with me. "D and I have talked and played a lot of games together". Dodging the accusation of being called Chris. Inquiring about motivations.

Motivations behind leaking. Instantly switching the topic to GeezerTown 11 afterwards.

Leaking GeezerTown 11

Discussing the potential for long term insiding by trying to get into elder rank and creating fake bases to give to Donfuer. Mentioning they are already in leadership and highly trusted and not suspected.

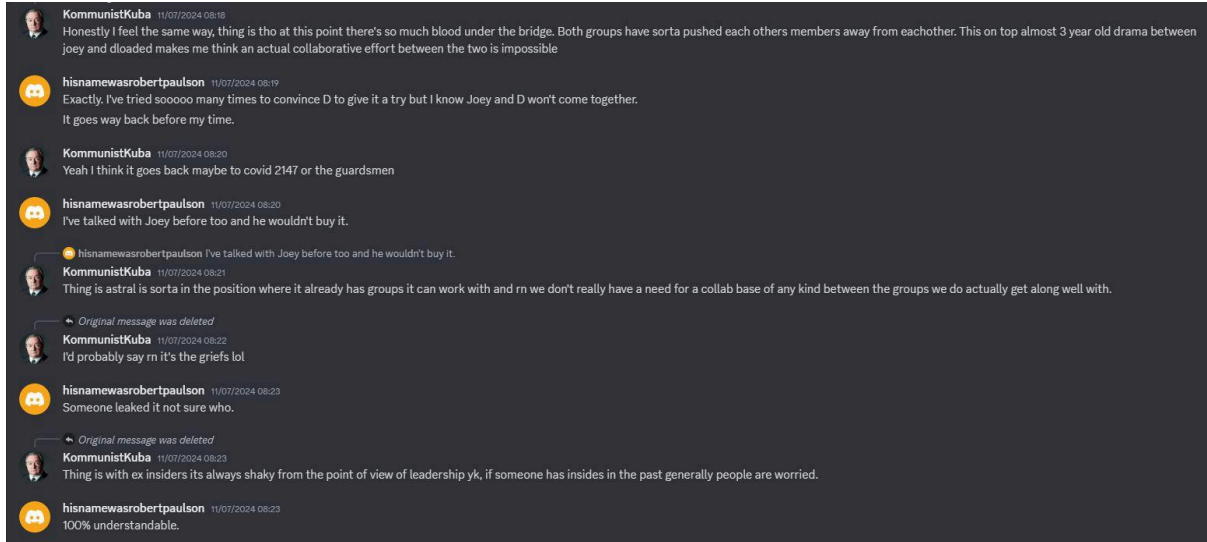

Commenting on how Chris was almost kicked out from the group, but that Chris took the situation well. Discussion on how to be an effective insider.

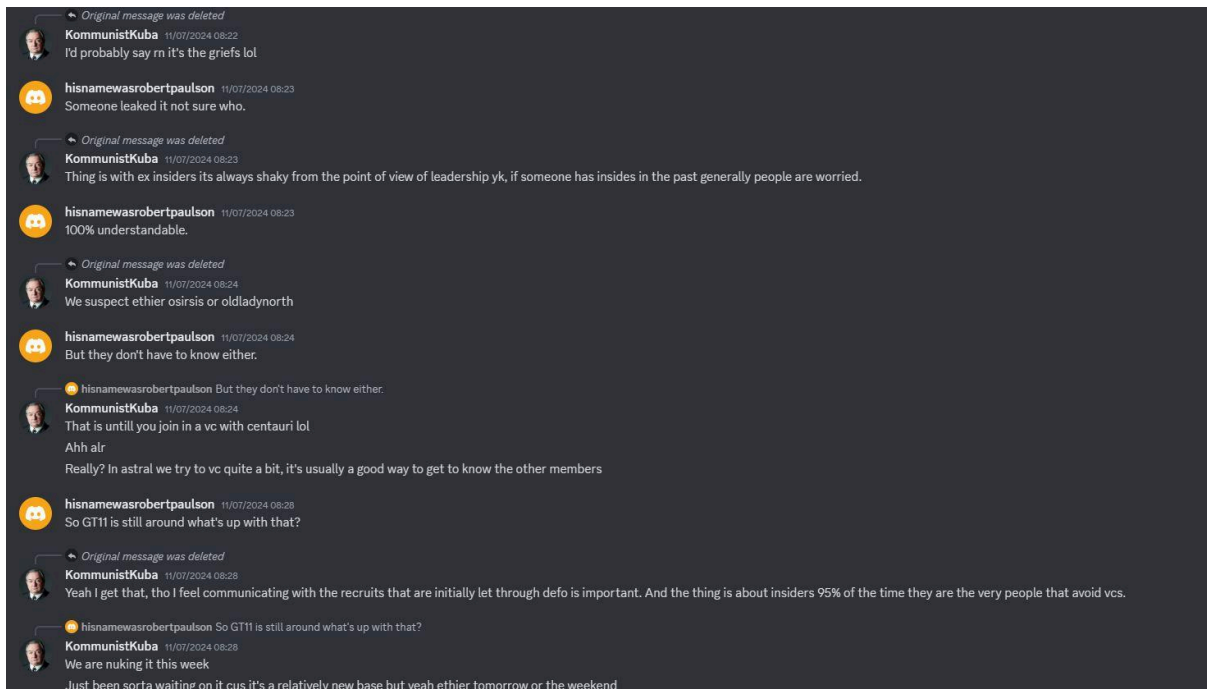

Mentioning how the Donfuer discord was locked down, even for leadership following Donfuer 28 self grief. Taking a break from Minecraft. Ignoring the accusation of being called Chris.

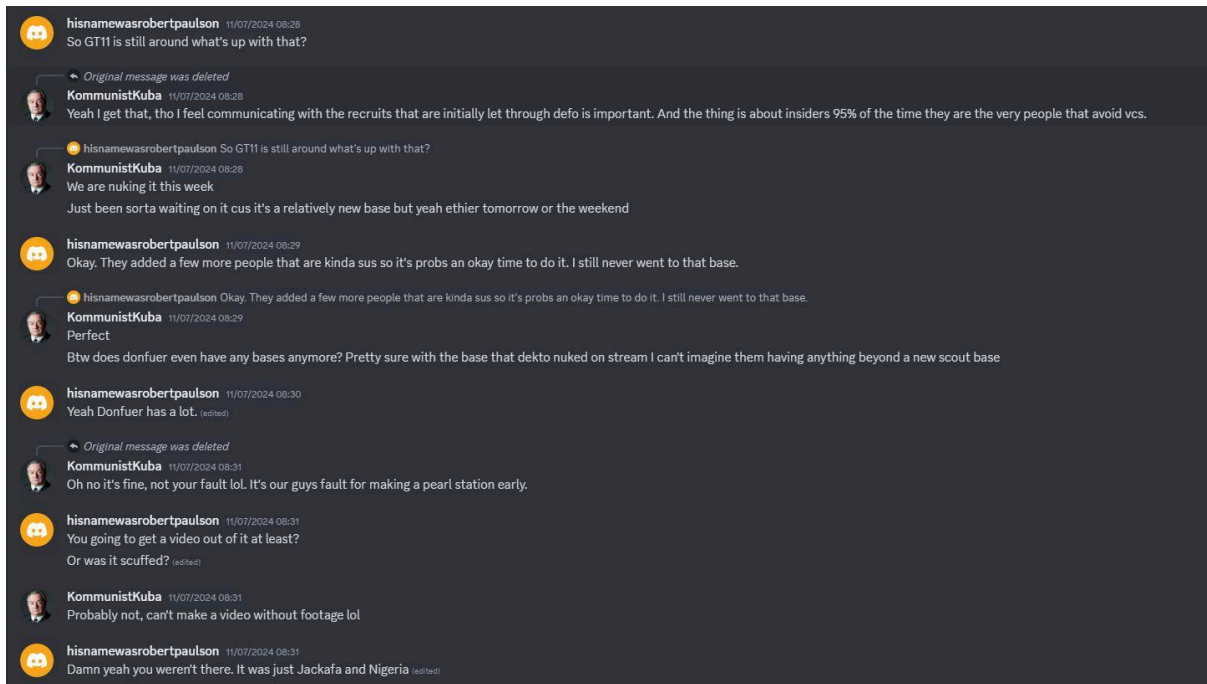

Discussing conflict between Astral and Donfuer. The Insider mentions trying to speak with Dloaded about the prospect of reconciling and also mentions reaching out to Joey. The Deleted messages are from the insider and were deleted around a few days after this conversation was held. Sadly after a month and a half I can't remember the messages I replied to.

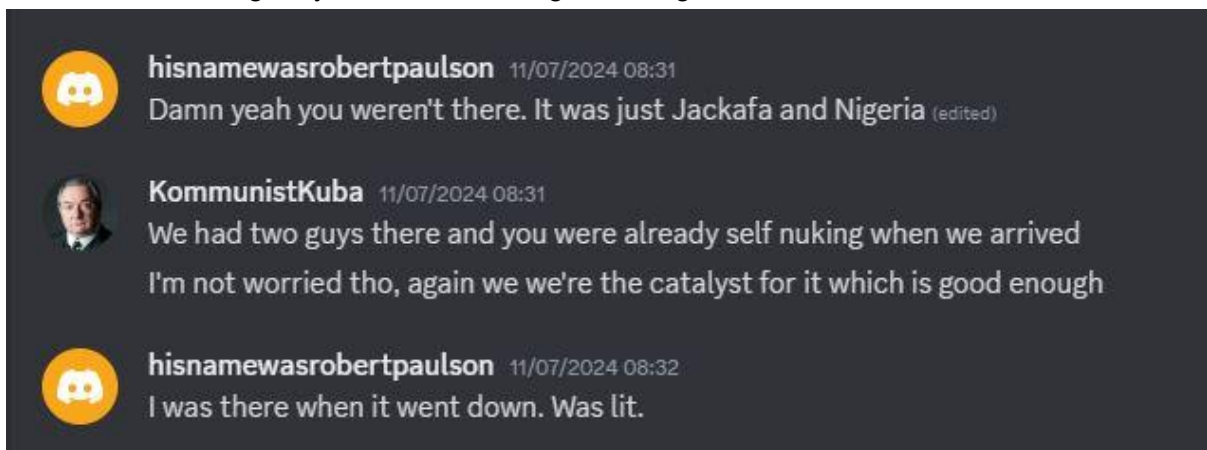

Continued:

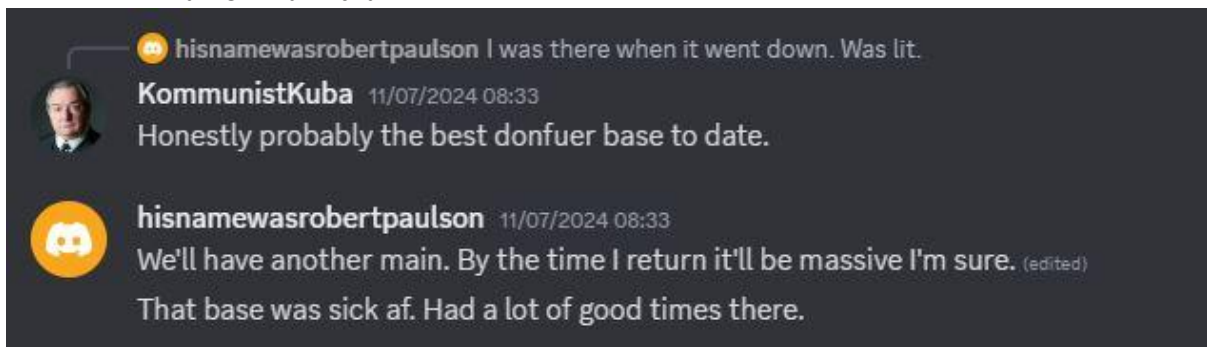

Diverting the conversation onto GT11. The account noting that they never went to GT11.

The Insider claiming they were there during the self grief.

The insider saying they enjoyed their time at Donfuer 28

This is basically a full chat log and goes over every small detail in our messages.

Potential suspects:

From all of this information I initially suspected MaximumChris as the insider. In fact in the messages I suggest that its him twice.

There are a number of reasons why I believe it's MaximumChris

1: The writing style of the insider reflects the writing style of MaximumChris. The manner in which the sentences are formatted and the word choice in some instances just screams MaximumChris to me.

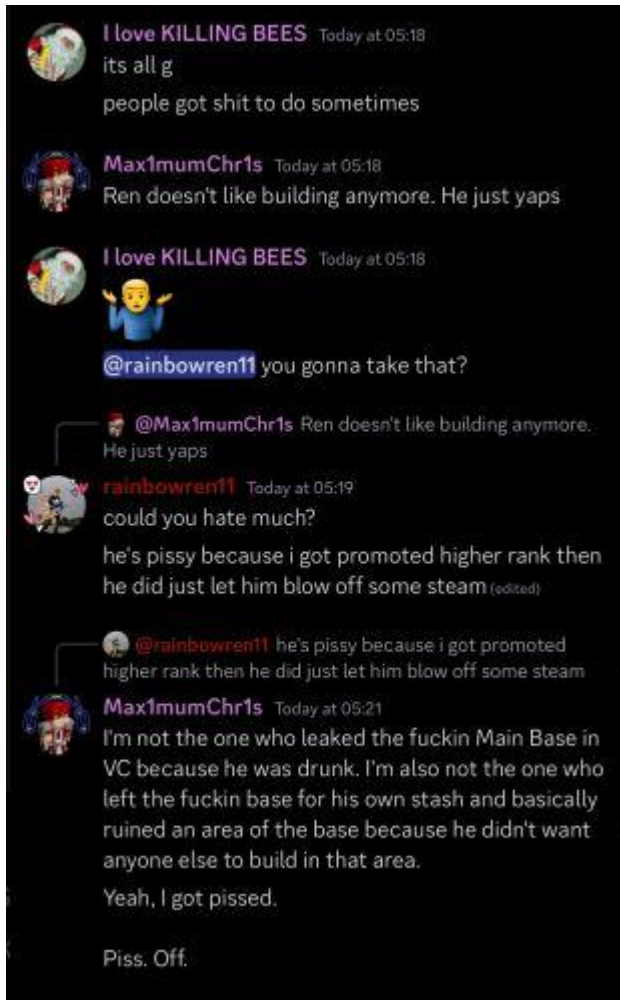

2: The insider leaked both Geezer and Donfuer bases, thus the insider must have had access to both. MaximumChris has access to both Geezer and Donfuer bases.

3: The time given for the Cinco de Mayo event was given in EST, MaximumChris' time zone is EST.

4: The insider makes extensive comments about the internal structure of the geezers. Saying how they are flawed in terms of leadership, how grieving base will alter how cords are given out and saying how usually the geezers will make a pearl station before giving out cords to the rest of the group. If this information is accurate, it indicates that that insider is ethier in the leadership of the geezers or would have extensive knowledge on how they operate. MaximumChris is in a position to know information like this, considering his heavy involvement with the group.

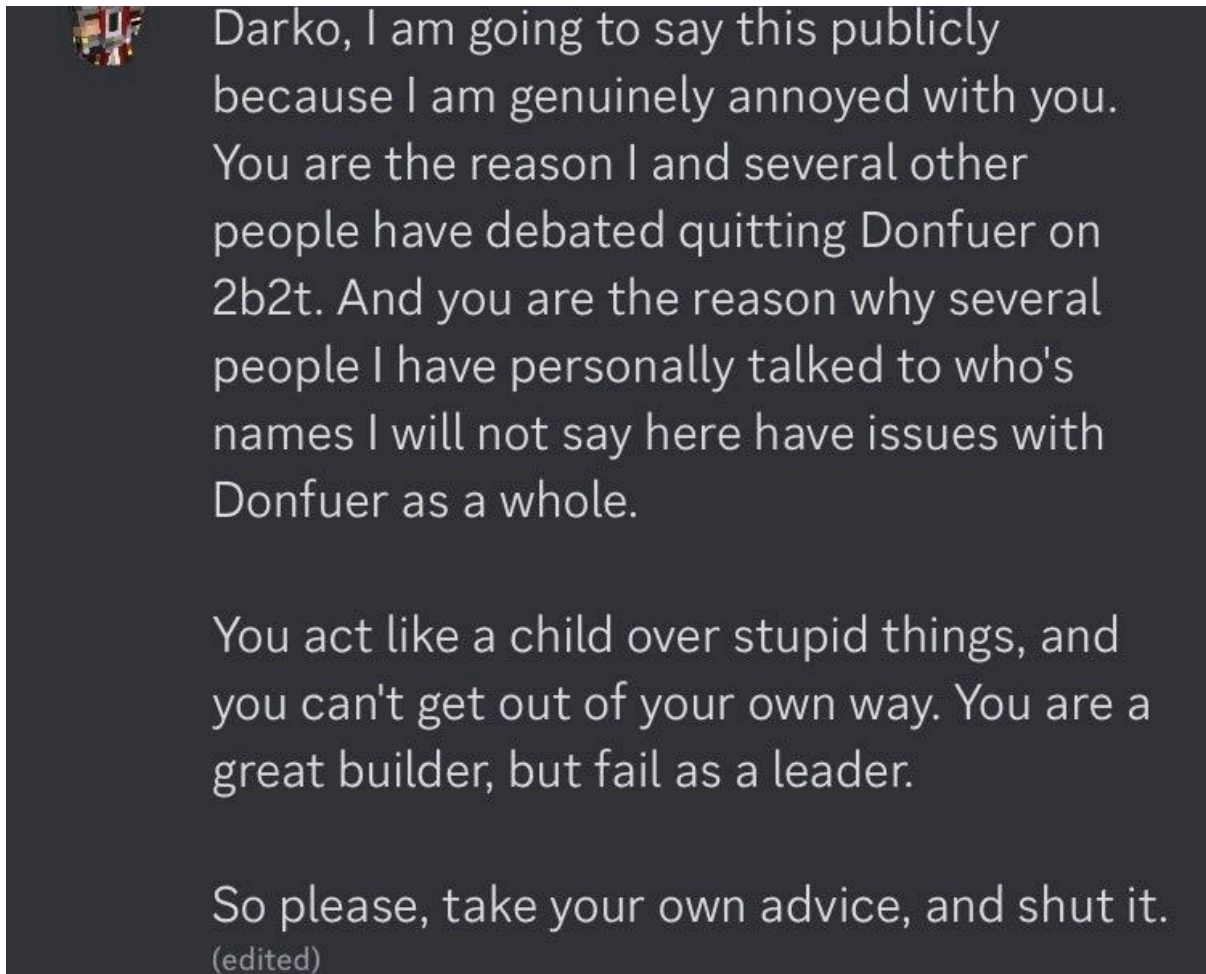

5: The insider ignores the accusation of being called MaximumChris, it doesn't deny or confirm it. It avoids the topic and at one point the account just said brb in response waited 7 minutes and just shifted the topic of conversation. If the insider wasn't Chris you'd expect a casual no, and yet the insider just avoids the topic entirely.

6: The unnecessary suggestion about blaming rainbowren for the cord leak since they get drunk a lot. This is interesting since MaximumChris has berated Rainbowren for that exact thing before. Its clear that MaximumChris feels upset about the leak rainbowren did, its also interesting to note how the insider suggests making a joke about him doing it again but in regards to GT11.

7: MaximumChris has leaked Donfuer stashes in the past. Keep in mind the stash was thousands of dubs and its leak set the group back quite a few hundreds of dubs. This was over a disagreement behind who leaked his recruit base. If MaximumChris is willing to leak a stash thats thousands of dubs big over a recruit base, who's to say he's not willing to leak Donfuer bases over personal conflict with some of the members.

8: MaximumChris has had issues with the leadership within Donfuer before:

9: The discussion about how the group almost kicked out Chris is an odd thing for an insider to mention. "He took it well" also is just another interesting comment. The insider seems to have some knowledge of the previous conflict between Chris and Donfuer and seems to believe that Chris conducted himself in an appropriate manner. Again an odd thing to just suddenly mention.

10: Suggesting a long term inside, this indicates that the insider believes they are soon to be promoted. It also tells us that the insider is already in a position of leadership within Donfuer, this is also something the insider has said throughout our messages. MaximumChris is someone who's in a leadership position in Donfuer. And as we can see from Ren's response, Chris feels like he should be getting promoted in the group for his work.

11: The account mentions trying to speak with Dloaded and Joey on the potential of reconciling Donfuer and Astral. IDK about the conversations Dloaded had on the topic and with who he had those conversations with, that's a question better addressed to him rather than me. But I can say I spoke with Joey on the topic. Funnily enough around a year ago MaximumChris has reached out to him about that very topic.

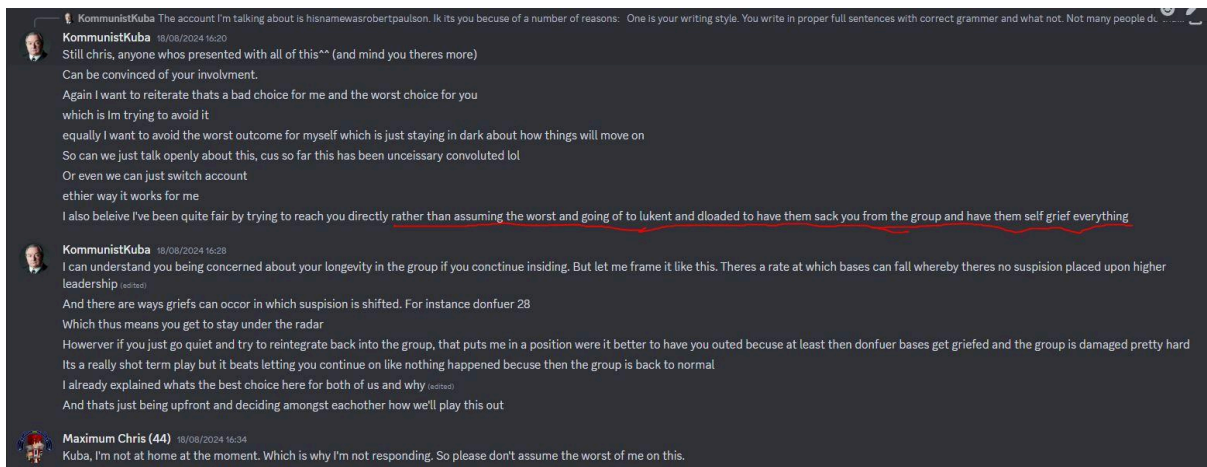

12: Saying that the discord was on lockdown even for leadership, again confirming the account is in leadership.

13: The account claimed to enjoy their time at Donfuer 28 and that they were present for the self grief. MaximumChris was at the self grief and judging from how much he jacks himself off over Donfuer 28 and how great of a base it is. He clearly enjoyed his time at the base and is proud of it.

14: In order to try to reestablish contact with the insider, and with all my suspicions around it being Chris. I decided to message Chris giving him an ultimatum. He deleted most of the conversation we had, but this interesting message remains.

Interestingly enough we had an entire conversation about him being a potential insider which got deleted I tell him I don't want to assume the worst and go off to Dloaded and Lukent with the information I have. He responds by trying to assure me, saying hes away and thats why he isnt responding to my messages. He does this to buy time for himself, and decides it would be better for him to just dm lukent about the accusation I am levying against him rather than just ignore me since the accusation would be more hard hitting if it came directly from me rather than Chris notifying Lukent. Needless to say this is a really weird way for Chris to act and aligns with how an insider whos trying to reintegrate back into the group would act.

Once aware that there's a mountain of evidence against him he just bring it forward to lukent himself rather than letting me bring it forward since it makes him look more innocent.

Some would suggest that it can't be Chris because:

1.Hes on good terms with D_loaded and Musk, why would he leak their stuff:

This fails to note that thats exactly what the insider said. The insider said their motivations are to basically stir the pot between the two groups and that Donfuer should be more confrontational. Along with general boredom around the server. As such insiders personal feelings towards D_loaded and Musk dont factor into their reasoning behind leaking. As such using that for a defense for Chris doesn't make sense. Also it happened before, Chris isn't a stranger to leaking things over personal disputes with members at the cost of the group at large.

2.The evidence I raised that its Chris is nothing really concrete and is just suspicion going off what the account said:

Thing is there is a lot of evidence pointing to it, the types of conversations being had and the comments about ren, about the geezers and even about how chris handled himself well kinda shows that to that person these topics are on their mind for them to mention them even if they didnt relate to the topic at hand. These are all things that when put together give a really clear picture. Sure to conclude that its chris because the account joked about ren is a stretch, but when really specific topics come up repeatedly then to me thats a really telling indication.

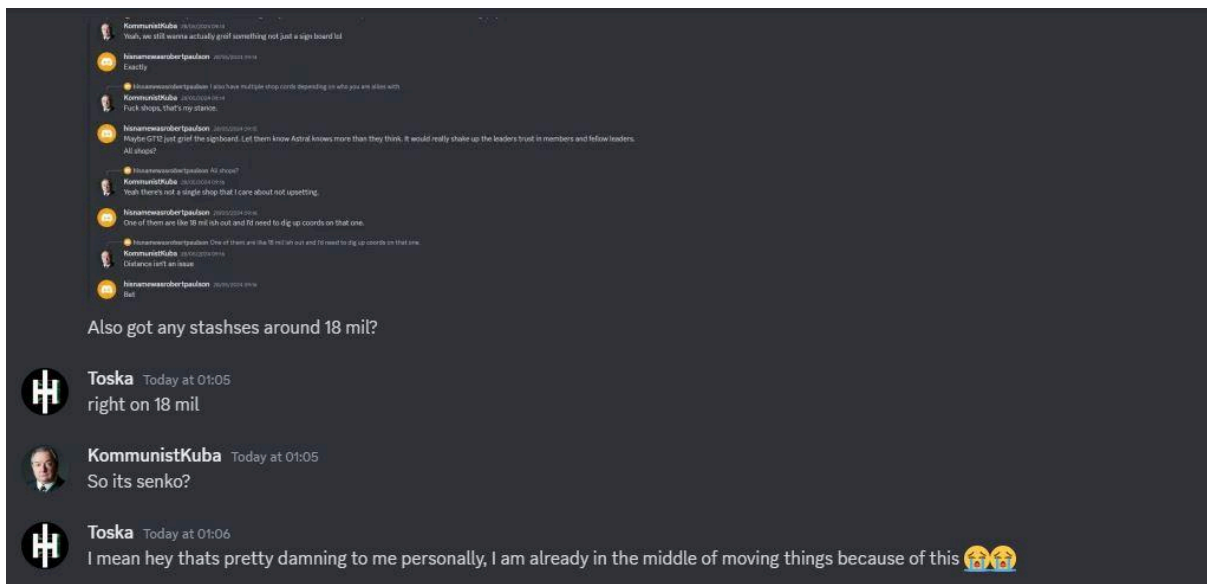

3. The time zone of some of the messages doesn't align:

Could be a bad sleeping schedule, could be working the night shift, could be abroad, could be the weekend so they stay up later. There's a lot of reasons why a message might be getting sent at a later time in relation to someone's timezone.

My second suspicion is on Senko_Foxx the reasons for this are as follows:

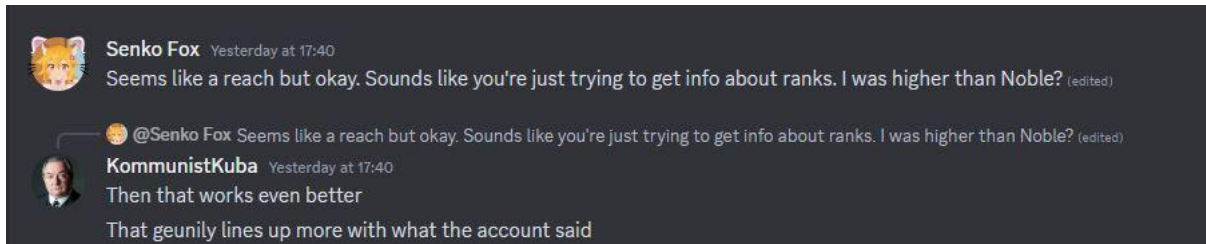

1.Again the insider has access to the same bases and Senko_Foxx does.

2.The insider mentioned having access to shop cords, Senko_Foxx is involved in running Enco shop. Interestingly enough the insider mentioned that one of the stash is 18 mil out. I asked Toska about this, he confirmed that infact one of the Enco shop stashes is 18 mil out. The only way the insider could know a detail like that is if they had cords to the Enco shop stash.

3.The insiding account mentions that it hasn't arrived to GeezerTown 11, Senko is someone who despite having cords did not arrive to GeezerTown11.

4. The insider mentions that it's in a position to be promoted to Elder soon, potentially meaning that the account is a viceroy in Donfuer. Senko_Foxx is a viceroy in Donfuer.

5. The insider mentions taking a break from 2b2t around the time that the account started insiding is when Senko_Foxx took a break from 2b2t.

I'd also like to suggest a third option. The insider ultimately gives contradictory information. Some stuff points towards Senko some points towards Chris. I wouldn't be surprised if some of the information given is a red herring, since the account intentionally hid its identity from me. It's no surprise then that it would seek to divert me by dropping false hints. Depending on what information you consider to be key, it could either be Senko or Chris. Yet there is one angle that can reconcile the contradictions.

The insider account mentions that it has people within geezers, and how the group will be unable to find them all. This implies multiple insiders. As such it could be possible that the account could be shared. This however again presupposes that all the information given by the account is fully accurate.

Personally, how I stand on this issue is that there's a lot of really specific information that points to both Chris and Senko_Foxx. Chris's information is more general but there are still some real specifics there that could realistically only come from him. The shop detail however clearly points it towards being Senko_Foxx. With only someone whose involved in the running of that shop having knowledge of its location.

Ultimately I am unsure but I think both are worth looking into and the possibility of both of their involvement isn't out of the window considering some of the details I outlined in the messages.

Now finally some may try to simply refute everything here by arguing that all the information I am putting forward is fabricated. That I am just trying to stir drama within the group by faking evidence and lining it up to match a member within the group. Mind you if these dms were fake and I wanted to implicate someone through them I'd make it way easier for myself and just have the account basically just admit that they are the person I am trying to implicate. I also wouldn't have contradictory information that can point towards two people. Also I don't have any knowledge behind the location of the Enco shop stash, how would I know that it's 18 mil out. That detail can only come from someone who had cords to it. And the only person who was in the position to leak the bases that were leaked and have info about the Enco stash is Senko_Foxx. I also don't know about the inner workings of the geezers which is something the insider clearly does, since they comment on it quite a bit.

What I recommend from now on from anyone reading this document right now is to consider the information I have brought forward and to try to cross check some of it. Again I already cross checked the Enco shop stash location with toska. But for instance asking if Chris ever spoke with dloaded about reconciling donfuer and astral. Also consider the writing style, to me its really specific and personally it points to chris in my eyes, but maybe those that know him better can confirm or deny that.

Either way if you need some clarification behind the points I raised feel free, if there's information here that you feel points towards someone also feel free to mention it.

This document has been shared with a number of people in leadership in where the two people I've focused on are. As such feel free to discuss with other members of the community that are implicated by this information since chances are I already gave this info over to them.
