

General changes

- Remove every instance of “donfall” replace with “connect 4 drama”
- replace number of bases lost from 22 – 9, fix numbers
- replace number of people kicked.

The connect 4 drama was a drama that was sparked by DonFuer's grief of the Bing Bong Connect 4 competition. It resulted in the loss of 9 Donfuer bases and builds, and triggered the group to enact a large scale membership purge of around 130 members. Although many of the members, affiliates, and bases were inactive at the time of the drama.

Initial Events

A 2B2T Connect 4 competition was announced by Sven Sven called Bing Bong Connect 4, which was to star many big groups on the server. The day before the event took place, members of Donfuer turned up at the arena locations, grieving them in advance of the competition. They also attempted to grief a BSB recruit base, but found it already grieved.

Official statements from D_loaded took credit for the griefs, branding the event as a BSB event and claiming they were in retaliation for the griefs of their own bases by BSB. This first statement was slightly walked back later on, where they continued to justify the griefs, but stated they were sympathetic to other participants.

BSB and NamoVFX then grieved Trifuer in retaliation of the event's grief. Despite the setback, the Connect 4 event took place shortly after.

After the competition ended, The Astral Brotherhood would reopen applications for former members of Donfuer, while continuing to reject Donfuer members. The Cakemasons would also denounce their actions, enacting a policy to reject Donfuer members as well. The Fifth Column would support Donfuer, claiming they were embracing anarchy. Zd0lf and waltss would leak several Donfuer bases to those who attended the event.

DonFuer would enact a membership purge, kicking out around 130 inactive, ‘reserve guard’ or suspect members. Taking the opportunity to clear out the group of inactive or suspect members.

Aftermath

In the days that followed, BSB would start a campaign against Donfuer, claiming to have destroyed a largenumber of their bases within the first day of the event. A couple of 2B2T bases would be grieved by Astral Brotherhood, as well as a further base would also be grieved by Astral Brotherhood on the Constantium server later on. While not strictly Donfuer-related, SBA and Dima788 would also locate and grief D_loaded's 2020 Mason Lodge.

DonFuer would make another statement during this time, fully apologising for their actions to most of the groups involved. D_loaded would also resign from the Fifth Column during this time in order to further distance himself from the grieving community.

In total 9 Donfuer bases/builds, 2 Bing Bong Connect 4 arenas and D_loaded's mason lodge would be grieved. The BSB recruit base and nearby Bing Bong Connect 4 mapart would be self-grieved after it was clear Donfuer had access to those co-ordinates.

DonFuer would recover over the following months and the drama would largely blow over. The event would serve as a course correction in DonFuer history, with D_loaded re-affirming their commitment to being a building, and community focused group.
